

Read the blurb and guess the book!

a. During the war, four children are sent to live in a large house. They discover a hidden door that leads to a magical land trapped in endless winter, where they must help bring back hope and peace.

b. A young girl lives on an island where maps and stories are very important. When her friend goes missing, she sets out on a dangerous journey into forbidden places. Along the way, she discovers courage, friendship, and the power of stories.

c. A new pupil joins a class but always sits quietly at the back and never speaks. The other children are curious about him, and as the story continues, they begin to discover his hidden story.

d. A boy is stranded on a remote island after a sailing accident and must learn to survive on his own. He soon discovers he is not alone, and an unexpected friendship changes the way he thinks about survival and trust.

